In 2020, the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith published a letter entitled Samaritanus Bonus on the care of persons in the critical and terminal phases of life. I will share some excerpts from such documents over the summer.

10. Pastoral accompaniment and the support of the sacraments

Death is a decisive moment in the human person's encounter with God the Savior. The Church is called to accompany spiritually the faithful in the situation, offering them the "healing resources" of prayer and the sacraments. Helping the Christian to experience this moment with spiritual assistance is a supreme act of charity. Because "no believer should die in loneliness and neglect", it encompasses the patient with the solid support of human, and humanizing, relationships to accompany them and open them to hope.

The parable of the Good Samaritan shows what the relationship with the suffering neighbor should be, what qualities should be avoided – indifference, apathy, bias, fear of soiling one's hands, totally occupied with one's own affairs – and what qualities should be embraced – attention, listening, understanding, compassion, and discretion.

The invitation to imitate the Samaritan's example — "Go and do likewise" (Lk 10:37) — is an admonition not to underestimate the full human potential of presence, of availability, of welcoming, of discernment, and of involvement, which nearness to one in need demands and which is essential to the integral care of the sick.

The quality of love and care for persons in critical and terminal stages of life contributes to assuaging the terrible, desperate desire to end one's life. Only human warmth and evangelical fraternity can reveal a positive horizon of support to the sick person in hope and confident trust. Such accompaniment is part of the path defined by palliative care that includes the patients and their families.

The family has always played an important role in care, because their presence sustains the patient, and their love represents an essential therapeutic factor in the care of the sick person. Indeed, recalls Pope Francis, the family "has always been the nearest 'hospital' still today, in so many parts of the world, a hospital is for the privileged few, and is often far away. It is the mother, the father, brother, sisters and godparents who guarantee care and help one to heal".

On this 15th Sunday in Ordinary Time we hear the parable of the sower. What kind of soil do we provide to the Lord as He sows His word in our hearts? Does His word land on the surface only or on rocky ground, where there is no hope for the word to take root within us? Does it land among the thorns, where so many other things choke the word off? Or do we, through prayer, penance, and charity, provide a rich soil for God's Holy Word so that it can transform us and allow us to provide rich fruit for the Lord? The choice is ours!

With love and prayers,

Fr. John Costello

Remember Your Loved Ones with Sacred Memorials

Honor them through gifts of faith, light, and love at the altar of God.

As Catholics, we believe in the Communion of Saints—our unbreakable bond with those who have gone before us in faith. One of the most beautiful ways to honor and remember our loved ones is by dedicating a memorial offering within the sacred space of the Church. These offerings are not only symbols of remembrance but acts of devotion that participate in the grace of every Mass celebrated here. We invite you to consider one of the following sacred memorials in loving memory of your deceased family members or friends:

Altar Bread & Wine, Altar Flowers,
Altar Candles
and Sanctuary Candles

Why Memorialize?

These sacred memorials draw your loved one's memory into the heart of the Church's prayer and worship. Each one is a visible sign of invisible grace, reminding us that in Christ, life is changed—not ended. Your memorial offering supports the life of the parish and becomes a gift of spiritual presence, lifting the soul of your loved one in the prayers of the community.

To request a memorial please contact the Rectory office at 718-746-8102

Let us honor those we love with faith, beauty, and remembrance in the house of God.

I WANTED A BETTER MARRIAGE

“ We decided to attend Retrouvaille because I remembered my aunt and uncle's marriage was so different from everyone else's in my family. They never argued, always seemed calm and loving, and spoke to each other with such respect. Later, I found out they had gone through a marriage help program similar to Retrouvaille. That's what I wanted—a better, healthier marriage. Now, after attending, I have the tools to make that goal a reality. ”
