Dear Friends,

Because Labor Day is as late as it can be this year, it feels like we have an extra week of summer. Of course, it may come with the price of a school year that goes further into next June than we'd like, but it is what it is and I hope we can all make the best of it. I'm sure families will be busy between back-to-school shopping and trying to enjoy the last days of summer before Labor Day. Don't forget to find time for Jesus!

In last Sunday's gospel, it was a shining moment for Peter: "you are Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church...." As the passage continues this Sunday, things seem to dramatically change for "the rock": "Get behind me, Satan! You are an obstacle to me." Of course, Peter is reacting to the Lord as Jesus reveals that He will suffer greatly, be killed, and then raised on the third day. Peter loves Jesus. He believes that Jesus is the Son of God. He would never want to see such things happen to Jesus. However, the Father has a plan that must be fulfilled, and, ultimately, as we know, Jesus will be raised. The Lord points out to Peter that, "You are thinking not as God does, but as human beings do." As followers of Jesus, we are called to expand our thinking beyond our human reality and to see as God sees. The only way this is possible is if we deny ourselves, take up our cross, and follow Jesus.

Next Saturday is the memorial of St. Teresa of Calcutta, affectionately known as Mother Teresa. During my years studying in Rome, I had two opportunities to see Mother Teresa. The first time was when a group of Missionaries of Charity were making their final vows. One of the faculty members of the seminary invited a couple of us to accompany him to the Mass, and so I saw her from a distance. My classmate took this picture, and I tease him to this day that he could've moved the camera a little more to the right to better include me in the shot! The second time was at the Church of San Gregorio near the Colosseum. My apostolate was to work with the sick and elderly at a homeless shelter run by the Missionaries of Charity. Mother Teresa was in town, and we were invited to go to the convent next door to the shelter to meet her when we finished our work. When she finally came to see us, she was very blunt in her advice to us as seminarians ... "be holy or get out!" To this day, the Missionaries of Charity continue to minister to the poorest of the poor, seeing in them the face of Christ. Incidentally, the nun who supervised our work as seminarians became the second successor to Mother Teresa after her death. St. Teresa of Calcutta, pray for us!

Since our first attempt for outdoor adoration in August was brought indoors due to the weather, I've been hoping to try it again before the summer ends. As of now, it looks like we should have good weather on Monday evening, so please plan on joining us from 7:00 to 9:00 PM at the Marian grotto behind the rectory for Eucharistic Adoration. It can give all of us a time to give thanks to God for the blessings of the past summer, and to pray for another grace-filled pastoral year when things start up again after Labor Day. Please join us!

With love and prayers,

Fr. John Costello

I WANTED A BETTER MARRIAGE

“ — We decided to attend Retrouvaille because I remembered my aunt and uncle's marriage was so different from everyone else's in my family. They never argued, always seemed calm and loving, and spoke to each other with such respect. Later, I found out they had gone through a marriage help program similar to Retrouvaille. That's what I wanted—a better, healthier marriage. Now, after attending, I have the tools to make that goal a reality. — ”
